SUGGESTIONS TO REACH PISA

By plane:

Pisa can be easily reached by different Air Companies landing at the “Galileo Galilei” International Airport. The airport is located nearby the town, at 5 min driving from the Central Railway Station.

To reach the town from the Airport, you can use:

- the bus (LAM Rossa) leading to the Pisa Centrale Railway Station area, in which you can find among the others two of the suggested Hotels, and to the Faculty of Engineering and the Piazza dei Miracoli, in whose surroundings are the other suggested Hotels; the ticket can be also bought on board at a slightly higher price (1,50 €) than at licensed sellers (e.g., tobacconist’s);
- a taxi that, depending on the time of arrival, you can find nearby the exit of the Arrival gate;
- a shuttle that can be provided by your Hotel; in fact, some of the Hotels make also this service upon request at a reasonable price; ask at the time of reservation for such a service, if available;

By train:

The Central Railway Station (“Pisa Centrale”) is quite close to some of the proposed hotels. From the Central Railway Station (suggested choice) you can reach on foot, or by bus (e.g., by LAM Rossa) or by Taxi your Hotel, depending on your choice.

An additional railway Station is “Pisa San Rossore” which is very close to the venue and even more to the Faculty of Engineering (50 m). Just consider that only “regional” and a few “interregional” trains are stopping in Pisa San Rossore. This should not be normally a very convenient choice, unless you already made this trip and you know the way out to the Faculty and/or the Venue or the Hotels (the station is not served by taxis: you must know exactly where to go!).

By car:

The Italian highway network (“autostrada”) has two different convenient exits for Pisa:

- “Pisa Nord”: if you are coming from the north, this is the best choice; taking this exit, you will have to drive southwards by the “Strada Statale (SS1) via Aurelia” down to Pisa the centre; if you are going directly to the venue or to the nearby Hotels, you have to stop earlier than in the centre, after turning left at the crossroad with via Andrea Pisano, highlighted in one of the above reported maps;

- “Pisa Centro”: if you are coming from the south, this is the best choice; to reach the centre of the town follow the related signs (“centro”); to reach the venue, instead, it is much better to follow the signs for the “strada statale (SS1) via Aurelia” and reach the crossroad with via Andrea Pisano, highlighted in one of the above reported maps.
