

Exhibition opportunities during the International Symposium on Understanding Moderate Malnutrition in Children for Effective Interventions

The IAEA is organizing the International Symposium on Understanding Moderate Malnutrition in Children for Effective Interventions, at its Headquarters in Vienna, Austria from 26 to 29 May 2014.

Approximately 300 participants from IAEA Member States, international organizations and non-governmental organizations are expected to attend the symposium. To highlight the latest advancements related to the development of products for the prevention and treatment of moderate acute malnutrition and to analytical techniques, it is planned to hold an exhibition with vendors in these fields in conjunction with the symposium. The symposium and the exhibition will both take place at the Vienna International Centre on the afore-mentioned dates.

A limited amount of space will be available for displays/exhibits during the symposium. Interested parties should contact the Scientific Secretariat by email (N.Mokhtar@iaea.org) before 22 February 2014.
